

Gemma Haigh

Today I said goodbye to my little girl Gemma, my best friend of 16 years and 3 months. She was my light, my life and my love. She never let me down, always greeted me with a wagging tail, made me laugh and made me cry.
She was my special gift.

My home is empty of love now Gemma has gone and her absence is unbearable. I miss her under my feet at every turn, I miss her cold nose on my cheek, I miss her nibbling my nose, her constant winging, but most of all I miss her love.

I hope that she is now running with her best boy Chip and that they are back together again. I will never forget Gemma, she is in my thoughts, my mind and my heart and will always be.

Sleep well my little beauty
Love you forever
