

Gemma Haigh

It's over six months since I had to say goodbye to you my sweet little lady Gemma, and I miss you more each day.

My world has changed since you left it and words cannot express the pain that I feel. There is no more excitement in getting home to see you and take you out. My home is empty of love as is my heart, and although our walks got shorter towards the end, we run through the fields as we all used to in my mind. Me and the two most precious things that I ever had in my life, Gemma and Chip.

I hope you're together and looking after each other as you both always did You are always in my heart, my head and my mind and you will never be forgotten.

Run free my darling and always now be pain free and happy.

Love you always
Dad
