Gemma Haigh

A year ago today I said goodbye to my little girl Gemma.
I cannot tell you what a total pleasure she was, she made me laugh every day with her mischievous nature, wonderful personality and huge heart. She brought me the greatest joy and made my life worth living.

She was a very special lady. She loved the sea, in fact any sort of water, unless it was falling from the sky, then she would turn tail and head for the door. She loved to run in the parks and the bigger and wilder the better. She loved chasing the bunnies in the ferns in Richmond Park and she could find a chicken bone in an haystack with that super sensitive nose.

I love and miss you with all my heart Gemma, but my life was better for having had you for that sixteen years and three months. I pray that there is a place where we will all run together - Me, You and Chip, who I know will be by your side looking after you.

I send all my love to you, I think of you often, although it breaks my heart, but through my pain you will always be with me, in my head, in my mind and in my heart.
Love always, Dad xxx
