Deeks Dungey

6 October 2015

Deeks you were such a special guy from the moment you were born.

I used to hold and cuddle you from two weeks of age.

Sadly you lost your back leg at five months of age, but you were such an inspiration, you never let it stop you living life to the full.

Then at four and a half years of age you damaged another leg and I had to let you go. That was the hardest decision ever.

I miss our cuddles so much.
Rest in Peace My Very Special Guy.
