Fugee Brown

How lucky I was that you came into my life for 17 years my devoted Cat Fugee!

Thank you for being there along side me every day, giving me your love and cuddles. You never failed in making me smile when I was sad or unwell.

I miss your little paw pats every morning insisting I get up, such an individual character, your adventurous, curious personality, never losing those kitten like features even to the end.

Yes I was very lucky to have a special friend like you. You tried to stay with me and your brother Simi as long as you could, Little Fighter! but I knew it was time for you to cross over the rainbow bridge to be young & healthy again.

So until we meet up for those special cuddles again,
God bless you my little furry friend.
I Love You, miss you so much

x