Zola

Zola we still miss you so much

2 years have passed nearly, I miss your moaning, your snoring, and the special smell that used to greet us when we come home,
(its a smell only a dog owner would know).

Lindi misses bossing you around, and the geese fly over and call you still.
We miss how you used to run up the garden to let us know the fire alarm was going to go off (mummy's way of letting us know dinner was ready)

Miss you big fella

xx
